THE COURTS.

Legal Perplexities of Suitors for Divorce.

ORDER OF HIBERNIANS.

Ratification of the Lease of a Sub-Tenant.

The time of the courts continues still to be largely ecupied in divorce litigations. Several days ago, as rill be remembered, application was made to Judge Donohue to modify his order referring to ex-Judge Barbour the question whether the decree of divorce obtained by Mrs. Ruth Cooper from her busband, Isane P. Cooper, could be set aside on the ground of fraud and imposition upon the Court. The modifica-tion was asked for by Mr. E. S. Caidwell, counsel for Mrs. Cooper, on the ground that the latter disclose at present the name of witnesses she wished to have examined because Judge Barbour had been the legal administrator of Jesse A. Marshall, brother of the ate John F. Marshall, whose widow Mrs. Cooper claims to be, and as such has instituted proceedings to recover her alleged dower interest in Mr. Marshall's claims to be, and as such has instituted proceedings to recover her alleged dower interest in Mr. Marshail's seatate. Judge Donobue yesterdsy refused to grant the application. His reasons are given in the following brief memorandum, indorased on the papers:—"In this case the at tement on information in regard to the referee is positively dented and is in no way supported, and, it seems to me, was graintously made and is no credit to the plaintiff possesses, or whatever witnesses she needs in the case, she must have had information of lor some years. It is not asses where delay can do snything but tend to defeat justice. The charges made on this motion are such, if true, as to demand speedy punishment; it false, quick redress should be afforded the accused parties. On the whole, with the time plaintiff has had, two days will be abundant time to give the names of the witnesses she wishes examined, and as to any time sho may justly need to get them or procure their evidence the matter nay salely be left to the relerse. The case will proceed before the relerve on the 12th inst.

In February last an action was begun in the Supreme Court by Abraham Spero, a clothing dealer of the Bowery, against annie Spero, his wile, for a divorce. The complaint charged the defendant with dultery with one John Sitsky. The plaintiff sileged that sitsky was employed in his store as cierk, and that during that employment the intimacy complained of was consummated. The defendant in nanswer denied these allegations and asked the Court to fix alimony and counsel fee, and Judge Daniels, upon application of kesers. Howe & Hummel, Mrs. Spero's counsel, directed a relevence to Assistant District Attorney William Herring, and ordered the plaintiff to pay $4 weekly to the defendant for suppert and the sum of $100 counsel fee. The evidence as clicited during the relevence were subjected to a vigorous conservation by Mr. Howe, in which they courtainted them in the sum of $100 counsel fee. The evidence Mr. Honjam Spero, and the sum of $100 counsel noses be desired examined, or to state what he expected to prove by them.

A suit for divorce has been brought by Amanda Dent against her husband, John Dent, on the ground that he is now living in additorous intercourse with a woman nomed Carrie Smith, in Atlania, Ga. The parties were married at Augusta, Ga., on the 15th of December, 1865. Judge Lawrence yesterday granted an order permitting service of the summons by publication.

ANCIENT ORDER OF HIBERNIANS. The Ancient Order of Hibernians, like most other latest difficulty in this Order has culminated in a litigation instituted in the Superior Court. The action is brought by the Annient Order of Hibernians, of the Btate of New York, against John Hart, national delegate, Thomas Kerrigan, national secretary, and E. L. Carey, national treasurer of the Ancient Order of Hi-bernians of the United States. The complaint, after stating the due and legal incorporation of the plaintiff, and that the defendants are the executive officers of the mational Order, and as such empowered to carry out the instructions of the National Convention, which meets once a year, goes on to say that, on the 28th of March, 1877, a convention of the Order was convened in this city and the defendants elected as the national or executive officers: that on the 2d of April following, and during the session of the Convention, a respitation was adopted flxing the second Tuesday of May, 1878, and this city, as the time and place of holding the next Convention, and that the defendants, by virtue of their office under the laws of the Order, are intrusted with issuing the call necessary ander such resolution. It is then stated that, in violation of their trust and contrary to the organized aw of the Order as well as the resolution referred to, and in bursuance of a plot concected by them, the defendants issued a call for the holding of the Convention at Boston on the second Tuesday of May last, instead of New York. The plaintiffs then state that the action of the defendants is the premises would greatly injure them and would deprive them of the Order. The complaint further states that the constitution of the Order requires that the head quarters of the same shall be in New York; that if the representatives are compelled to go to Boston great exponse will be attached to the different lodges under the plaintiff's jurisdiction, and which, if the plots were carried out, would be deprived of representation. The complaint then asks that the deendants be epioined from enforcing the call and from holding the Convention in Boston and also from taking the books and papers of the Order from enforcing the call and from holding the Convention in Boston and also from taking the books and papers of the Order into the call, and that letters were received from nearly slite twenty-six States approving of the action to hold the Call, and that letters were received from early slite twe tiff, and that the defendants are the executive officers the Order. The complicate former states that the Control of Appeals to-day the following tests are small by in According to the control of the Control of Appeals the Control of Appeal

Thomas McCormack, the inspector for the Second district, being advised by his counsel that the Board of Aldermen had no power to pass such an ordinance, and that the ordinance abolishing the fees for inspecion was utterly void, did, on the 17th day of January last, inspect the weights and measures of Mesers. last, inspect the weights and measures of Messrs. Mckesson & Robbins, the wholesale druggists, who refused to pay him for the inspection on the ground that the Board of Aldermen had sholished such fees. McCormack brought suit before Judge Callanan, of the First District Court, to compel payment of the fees. The suit was tried, and the Judge, upon a careful examination of the law, decided in favor of McCormack, holding the ordinance to be void. From this decision McKesson & Robbins appeared to the General Term of the Court of Common Pleas. The latter Court has given a decision affirming the judgment rendered by Judge Callahan, Crief Justice Daly writing the opinion, and the same being concurred in by Judge Larremore.

THE BURKL-GARDNER SUIT The sait brought by Mrs. Virginia C. Burke, since deceased, against Esther A. Gardner and others, to recover a fortune left by her father, the facts of which have been published, still occupies the attention of the courts. It will be remembered that Mrs. Burke recovered a judgment against the Gardners for about $60,000, which her father nad upon his person at the time of his death in Mr. Gardner's house, and which Mrs. Gardner claimed had been given to her daughter. The only portion that could be secured was about $10,000 on deposit in a trust company, and the greater portion of this sir. A. H. H. Dawson, attorney for Mrs. Burke, claimed for his services. Judge Van Hoesen yesterday directed that Mr. Dawson turn over the money and bouds in his possession to Mrs. Burke's administrator, unless he quickly brings to trial his suit against Mrs. Burke for his services.

QUANTRELL'S RAID.

In 1854 a judgment was recovered by James Liby against Moritz Pinner, in Douglas county, Kan., and the first judgment for $5,472. A mortgage was given to secure the notes on which the original judgment to secure the notes on which the original judgmont was obtained, and on this mortgage he collected $1,834 72. As unit to recover the balance due on the Kansas judgmont was tried yesterday before Judge Barrett, in supreme Court, Circuit. In defence, it was set up that the papers in the first Kansas sut had never been served. As the records had all been destroyed during Quantrell's raid the evidence was necessarily of a secondary character. Judge Barrett directed a sealed verdict this morning.

to watch for that man, and if he comes here telegraph to me there," and he handed a plece of paper on which was written, "W. J. Cleary, 300 Maiberry street." Cassidy told the other he would be happy to be of service to him, and invited him to dripk. There was some further conversation, and then the self-styled detective, remembering he bad an engagement that would cost him something, saked for a loan, and on receiving it hastily withdrew. Cassidy tollowed, and at length caught sight of him in front of a five cent barber's shon. On seeing cassidy the pseudo detective took to his heels, but was pursued and captured. He was taken to the flombs Police Court yesterday, where he said his name was Joun Berry. On Judge Wandell asking him what he had to say he muttered, "I'm not guilty, and you'll find it out bolore this game's played. It's all a put up job." The Judge thought otherwise, however, and committed Berry in $1,000.

BOY BURGLARS.

Tores small boys in tattered raiment-three small boys with dirt-smeared faces, which eyes red with weeping made still more uncomely—stood before Their names, they said, were John Sullivan, Denis Sullivan and Thomas McCaffrey. They did not look a bit like desperadoes, except when they glared at a fourth prisoner, a big boy named John Crowley, who looked thoroughly uncomfortable. "Little boys, little boys, " said Judge Wandel tricks; you must be punished severely," on which paternally, "you are too young to begin such guileful tricks; you must be punished severely," on which they all blubbered and called out with one accord, "Twas him put up the jot," Then they glared again at Growley, who tried to seem as meck as a lamb. On this an explanation was called for, which revealed that the big boy had instigated the crime for which all were arrested and then tried to shield himself by the plea that he had caught the others. An officer told how the affair transpired.

Late on Sunday night two small boys got under the window of Packson & Vicker's tea store, Nos. 130 and 132 Water street. Frat they broke away a portion of the iron shutter and then they smashed the window inside. Severally they essayed an entrance then, but only Denis Suilivan, the smallest of the party, could crawl through. That served their purpose. Out through the opening came package after package of toa, and no doubt the sidewalk would have been fairly littered had not a passerby detected them and raised the cry of "Stop thiel!" At once there was a scamper. Each one caught up what he could carry and ran for his life, while little Denis Suilivan, wriggling under the shutters, was caught fast there and hold till captured. The lugitiven, on reaching a corner, were suddenly confronted by Crowley, who was waiting for them there, and who forthwith deprived them of the stelen property and made off himself he making the capture. He was suspected, however, of being himself concerned in the theit. Judge Wannell then committed the three small boys in $1,000 to answer and held Crowley in the same amount as receiver as well as thief.

THE ALCIRA ALTERCATION.

Captain Lindsley, of the brigantine Alcira, and his two mates. Pence and Delano, charged before United States Commissioner Osborn with having caused the death of one William Voss, a scaman, during the passage of the ship in question between New and Puerto Capello, were examined yesterday in their own delence. They all denied that Voss had been own delence. They all denied that Voss had been kicked, and the Captain swore that at any time during his confinement in irons on deck Yoss would have been released if he had conseated to go to work. This he refused to do, and as the discipline of the ship had to be maintained he remained in irons all night. The stories about a driving snow storm in latitude 31 deg, were also denied and the log book produced in evidence. After hearing the testimony Commissioner Oxborn discharged Delano absolutely and held Peace on his own recognizance. To-day District Attorney Fiero will sum up for the government. Meanwhile the Captain is under bonds.

Allow me to call the attention of the authorities to the sewer at the southwest corner of 124th street and Seventh avenue. The odor from it is horrible.

CHURCHES, SEXTONS AND UNDERTAKERS. TO THE EDITOR OF THE HERALD:-Nearly all oburches are disfigured by the signs of sexions and undertakers. The only and desirable sign over every church should be its corporate name.

There can be no good reason for the extortion, as newsdealers at Englewood and other towns on the railroad can afford to serve their customers with morning papers at the usual city rates, Many readers of the Heralle pray for relied.

ANTI-EXTORTION.

To THE EDITOR OF THE HERALD:—

Be kind enough to call the attention of the authorities to the following matters:—There is a carcase of a borse or an ox under the dock north of Pavonia ferry slip, at the foot of Reade street. The lower part of Greenwich street noyer looks as if it was swept, for the reason that the dirt is bot taken away at all, or else done so tardily that one-half of it is scattered over the Street again.

B. G. W.

TO THE EDITOR OF THE HERALD :-

I beg to call attention to the obstruction now at the Henry and Market streets where the street contractor has beaped up large plies of stones in front of the entrance, so that it is almost impossible for those wno worship there to obtain ingress to the building.
The sexten, Mr. Greer, has drawn the attention of the foreman of the work to the subject, but without any redress, and when spoken to a second time he said he was directed by the contractor to pile them there,
What redress can the charten have in a case of this kind?

POLICEMEN IN RESERVOIR SQUARE.

TO THE EDITOR OF THE HERALD :-Can you inform me what the duties are of the policemen stationed in Reservoir square? Are they to who is stationed there at present seems to have nothing to do but inter:ere with persons on the outside. I should Judge he never held such a position before. Boys climb up in the trees breaking off the branches, and I have never seen him taking any notice of them, but since the elevated railroad has been running his whole duty seems to be to interfere with the transfer coaches, which are such a convenience in taking passengers to the Grand Central Depot. During a year's residence opposite the park I never saw any other officer outside of the railing and think this one had better have some person inform him what his duties are.

THE ROW ON THE SCHUYLER.

The captain of the boat J. B. Schuyler claims that the Harbor Master in forbidding his vessel to land at Grand street was acting in the interest of the ferry Grand street was acting in the interest of the ferry company, and was exceeding his powers. Harbor masters, he says, are by law empowered to designate landing places only for such boats as receive or discharge cargo, whereas the Schuyler was only a pasenger boat and in no wise came under the provisions of the law. He had paid wharfage to the city for landing where he did, which he believed gave him the right to act as he had done. Moreover, he says that he did not interfere in the least with the movement of boats on the Grand street terry. Edward itsiler, the first mate, was yesterday taken before Judge Bixby, at the Kasex Market Police Court, and neid in $500 hall to keep the peace. The others who resisted the police were fined $10 each.

CHECK TO THE POLICE.

TO THE EDITOR OF THE HERALD :-Being a passenger on the J. B. Schuyler, bound yesterday morning for Bringeport, I was a witness to the fracas which occurred on the Grand street dock, and fracas which occurred on the Grand street dock, and would like to know if Captain Copeland is permitted to Jump on board at boat and point a revolver in the middle of a crowd of harmiess women and children? We have suffered indignity long enough from our secaled guardians of the peace, and it is high time now that our citizens should rouse themselves and show that they are men. Captain Copeland yeaterday morning cried, "I am the law." Is that a reason for his boarding a boat with policemen from three precincts in order to arrest three men? I sincerely trust the New Yorkers will see this matter through and insure hereafter the salety of peaceful citizens seeking a day's release from the smoke and heat of a crowded city. A LADY PASSENGER.

New York, June 10, 1878.
